A POLITICAL MIRACLE.

Grant, Blaine and Conkling Bury the Hatchet.

A Washington special says: Political gossip says that for the past two months an effort has been made to bring about a reconciliation between Blaine, Grant and Conkling, looking to the next Presidential campaign. An inkling of this has already reached the President, but as between Blaine and Grant the statements have been premature. What was most desired, but was still unaccomplished, was stated as an already existing fact. This reconciliation has been sought in the interest of Belford, who is known to be the leader of the Blaine forces in his region and whose daughter is married to General Grant's son. The original scheme contemplates the nomination of Blaine for the Presidency, with inducements of the Secretaryship of State held out to Grant and the Senate to be handed back to Conkling. It was thought that under this scheme, if it could be carried out, the Republican party would enter upon the next campaign with a spirit of unbounded enthusiasm. It is now certain that a reconciliation between Blaine and Grant has been effected. It is stated that Belford, of Colorado, has been the one acting in the role of mediator.

Belford had a long interview with Conkling at his chambers last evening, during which the political situation was privately but fully discussed. The precise details of the conversation cannot be obtained, as Belford will not talk; but he does not deny the character of the interview, and the fact that Belford went directly from Conkling to Chaffee and from Chaffee to Secretary Teller furnished sufficient clue to what was in the wind. It appears that Belford has been quite active in the matter, and being on a friendly footing with all the parties and a good fellow himself, has rapidly forwarded a plan for harmony. From Teller he sought Secretary Chandler and the conference lasted till midnight. As the result of these mediatory efforts it is supposed that in the month of February the movement will be set on foot looking to the nomination of a Republican Presidential candidate who will receive the support of all shades of party factions. This movement may not be able to forestall the work of the convention just called at Chicago, but it is merely intended to pave the way for harmonious action there next June. It is desired by the political leaders here that the Republican convention of 1884 may not be the scene of contention presented at the last one.

Judge Belford was interrogated to-day with reference to the matter, and stated that matters will be arranged satisfactorily to all parties before the 1st of May, and that in his judgment the Republican party will carry the country with an enthusiasm not seen since 1860.

The San Francisco Call says: The feature of the week has been the excitement in Ophir, owing to the Flood-Morrow contest for the control of the stock at the annual meeting on the 19th. Proxies have been of great value, and from $1 to $5 per share have been paid for them, and the stock has risen to 11%, although sales have been limited, as there is not much stock in circulation. The Morrow party has offered $4 per share for proxies and the Flood party $5, each interest, in addition, giving the person holding the proxy a bond to pay him the highest price the stock may sell at, before the meeting. The theory is as follows. From Crown Point up to Chollar is controlled by Sharon; the Levy interest controls Savage and Hale & Norcross; while from Gould & Curry up to Utah, the extreme north end, is owned by Flood, and it is supposed that the latter wants to retain control of the Ophir to prevent Sharon from obtaining a foothold in the very middle of his group, as well as to work all the low grade ore supposed to be in Ophir.

At the meeting of the National Republican Committee at Washington the other day, Senator Miller, gave notice that in 1888 California would ask to have the Convention held at San Francisco, and a determined effort would be made to secure it.

It is stated in Washington that Senator Jones has given up the lease of Governor Butler's house on Capitol Hill, and that he and Mrs. Jones will board at an up-town hotel during this session.

Mrs. Chris y's heart is said to have been one of the smallest on record, weighing only about six or seven ounces. This disposes of the assertion that she did not have a heart.

O'Donnell was hanged yesterday.

Official Communication.

DEAR SISTERS OF THE W. C. T. U.:

—You have doubtless seen that the National W. C. T. U., at our recent Convention in Detroit, passed the following resolution: "As the strength of the liquor traffic is in the law protecting it, and law is the result of sentiment expressed by ballot, we therefore, recognize it to be the christian and patriotic duty of women to bend their energies toward securing the ballot, to the end of crystallizing their sentiment into law that shall protect the home from the encroachments of its enemies."

They also passed a resolution instructing our general officers to memorialize Congress for the passage of a sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, prohibiting the States from disfranchising any citizen on the ground of sex.

In order to carry out the purpose of these resolutions, I desire that every woman, who believes our cause is just, shall interview, if possible, or write to the Senators and Representatives in Congress from her State, urging that they support and labor for the passage of such an amendment, in order that when our National officers go to Washington with our memorial they may be sustained by the strong moral support which such interviews and letters will give them with the Senators and Representatives of your several States. I do request and urge that all men who love justice and believe that the majority should rule, and that in a government of the people all the people should be heard, would also write such letters and aid us in securing that which we believe to be our due in a government which declares that "a government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed."

Recognizing that, in all the struggles through which this nation has passed to secure the blessings of civil liberty, the women have borne their part unselfishly and uncomplainingly, we feel that our request to be clothed with all the prerogatives of citizenship is both right and just.

You are respectfully urged to have this circular printed in all your local papers, to the end that it may reach the eye of all women that are interested.

Mrs. Z. G. WALLACE,
Supt. of the Dept. of Franchise of the National W. C. T. U.
Indianapolis, Nov. 20th, 1883.

Mrs. Minchin, wife of Conductor Billy Minchin, who was killed on the S. P. some time ago, spent a few days in town this week. She is on her way home to Calistoga, where she has been employed as a telegraph operator. She has been on a business trip east. The railroad boys, as usual, to show their generosity to the widow and the orphan of a deceased brother workman, got up a subscription, and nearly a hundred dollars were realized and handed to her. She has two children to support, and the boys are bound that she shall not suffer.

Stockton Journalistic Amities.

Last Saturday evening Ed. Colborn, of the Stockton Mail, and A. O. Russell, a journalist, had a dispute about money which Russell claimed Colborn owed him. Colborn refused to pay, assigning a reason therefor, and Russell broke his cane over Colborn's head. Colborn then knocked Russell down, when they were separated.

A SENSATION.

A Detective Takes a Quiet View of the Country and Concludes That J. G. Looper Murdered Shaw-Looper in Custody.

(Alturas Independent 15th.)

Last Monday morning a little breeze of excitement was created on our streets by a rumor to the effect that officers had started to Madeline Plains for the purpose of arresting J. G. Looper, and that they were armed with a warrant calling for the arrest of said Looper, for the murder of Samuel B. Shaw, the old man who was murdered, and whose head was severed from the body, at a cabin on Madeline Plains in September last. Subsequently it was ascertained that the complaint upon which the warrant was issued was made by a Mr. Bailey, father of O. E. Bailey, Deputy Sheriff of this county. Mr. Bailey, it seems, is a professional detective, and has been here for several days, but as he has conducted himself in a very quiet and unobtrusive manner, had attracted but little attention, and no one seemed to know who he was or what was his business. It has further transpired (so the report goes) that Mr. Bailey's chief ground of suspicion is based upon a conversation he had with Looper on Sunday last. Last Saturday Looper came to Alturas in company with S. S. Bailey, and remained until Sunday afternoon. This Mr. Bailey, learning who Looper was, watched him closely, and on Sunday requested a private conversation with him. After asking him a few questions concerning the Shaw murder, the old man suddenly arose, and confronting Looper, said: "Looper, you killed that man! you know you did! You are a Mason, and you have murdered a brother Mason!" It is said that Looper became greatly agitated, and finally burst into tears, but all the time stoutly denied the accusation. These actions on Looper's part seemed to convince Bailey that he was the guilty party, and accordingly on Monday morning a warrant was placed in the hands of Nick Sullivan and George Dean, and they started in pursuit of Looper, overtaking him at W. S. Woods' ranch, near the Lassen county line. They arrested him and lodged him in the county jail that night.

As to Looper's guilt or innocence, we, of course, are not prepared to express an opinion. He is comparatively a stranger in this place, but we understand that he has hitherto borne a good reputation, and his friends are loth to believe that he is guilty of the crime. We can only hope that he is innocent and will vindicate himself, but should he be proven guilty, there is no punishment too severe for him.

Arthur's Prospects.

There is not very much said as yet by Republican journals as to who their probable candidate for President will be next year; but we believe there is a conviction on the part of a large majority of them that it will be President Arthur. We believe that this conviction comes, too, from the fact that the character of the man is asserting itself in a way to impress men generally that he has a reserve strength within himself which even his warm friends did not give him credit for two years ago.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Dudley C. Haskell, member of Congress from Iowa, died yesterday morning.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-lyr

RICH STRIKE IN THE RIVERDALE.

The New Gravel Mine at Quincy.

The JOURNAL made mention last week of the rich strike in the Riverdale, and now comes the Quincy National, of Saturday last, with the full particulars, as follows:

The miners in the Riverdale mine (which is known to many as the O'Neil ranch mine) broke through into gravel on Monday morning, and from half a car-load of gravel which fell down into the drift, some seven or eight dollars was washed out. This proves that they are in the right place, and the outlook for a big paying mine could not be better than it is. At this time a short history of the Riverdale mine may be of interest: The ground for the past 30 years has been owned by the late Capt. J. F. O'Neil, and since his death by his widow. It covers the most of the arm of American Valley extending from the valley proper to Elizabethtown, and joins the noted Loring & Leavitt claim. Some three years since Messrs. Meyert & Hughes made a bargain with Mrs. O'Neil to open and prospect the ground. An engine was put on and a shaft put down to bedrock on the west side of the channel. The shaft went down to the depth of nearly 100 feet, and from appearances, struck the west rim, pitching to the east. A drift was started to the east and run for a short distance, but lost bedrock, and the water proved very troublesome. Some good prospects were obtained, however, but nothing definite was known as to the bottom of the channel. About this time Manson & Corbin purchased the right of Meyert & Hughes, and moved the machinery up to their claims above, and the shaft stood deserted until June or July last, when Mr. Dorr Russell entered into an agreement to prospect the claim, taking as a partner Mr. Thomas Davis, of Crescent. The right of Manson & Corbin was purchased, new machinery was put on, and the work of sinking a new shaft commenced. This has been prosecuted steadily ever since, the ground being fearfully soft, and the water proving very troublesome. Some time ago the shaft struck bedrock, and what proved to be the east rim of the channel, pitching to the west, and here a very encouraging prospect was obtained. The two shafts are 90 feet apart, and this indicates the channel to be about that width. The shaft, after striking the rim, was continued down some 20 feet, and a drift started to the west to tap the channel. This drift has been run just under the channel for 70 feet, and on Monday morning last the gravel broke in at the top, with the result as stated above. A connection has now been made with the drift from the Meyert & Hughes shaft, the water drained off, and the mine is now in a splendid condition for opening. That it will prove extraordinarily rich is almost a certainty, as it is the outlet of all the rich channels which made Elizabethtown so famous in the early days of Plumas, and the owners are to be congratulated on their good prospects. The gold is the regular old-fashioned rusty lead gold, mixed with bright quartz gold, which evidently came from the quartz point above the mine. Good miners very confidently predict that a very large sum will be taken out before the upper line is reached, and the extent of the channel below is as yet unknown. There is no reason why it should not extend down through the O'Neil ranch, and under the ranch property of Mr. Mills, and if it does, he will open it from his own shaft, near Spanish Creek. Mr. Russell has shown much pluck, perseverance and determination, and the foreman, "Commodore" Davis, also merits a good word, as he has been hard at it, day and night, since the commencement. We are positive that the Riverdale will prove a big bonanza to the owners, and that a large number of men will find employment there for years to come.

The Boca Brewing Company is having a number of refrigerator cars built. They are painted white, with a huge colored picture of a grizzly bear (their trade mark) in the center and are very attractive. They are so arranged that beer can be packed in ice and shipped to any part of the Union in as good condition as when it leaves the brewery.

The Carson Tribune says District Attorney Torreyson will conduct the prosecution of Lizzie Lindsay unassisted, and he is working like a beaver. It adds: "It's a safe thing to say that he will make a better showing than any of his predecessors would have. Mr. Torreyson has an unusual fondness for his profession, a quality that will assist him to the top rounds."

Mutual Benefit Payment.

M. E. Glover, who represents the Northwestern Masonic Aid Association in Carson, informs the Tribune that his Association has paid out to the families of deceased Masons nearly $1,100,000 since its organization, and Charles F. Sharp, Grand Receiver in this jurisdiction of the Ancient Order United Workmen, has, within the past three months, paid to the families of deceased members $12,000, all of whom would have left their families in nearly a penniless condition had they not belonged to Mutual Benefit Associations.

Two Elegant Portraits.

The Tribune rejoices in the fact that Carson has a talented portrait artist in Mrs. C. S. Preble. It says: "This lady is putting the finishing touches upon a couple of portraits in water colors, that for correctness of drawing, completeness of detail and delicacy of touch, would challenge the admiration of the most critical connoisseurs. The portraits are of two beautiful little girls—sisters—one a brunette and the other a blonde. They reside in San Francisco, the order for the portraits being sent from that city to Mrs. Preble."

Washoe Mines.

Parties are still busy prospecting and making locations in the mountains east of Washoe City. Quite a mining excitement is being worked up for the old camp, and that too, on a genuine merit. All the notices of locations are recorded in the office of the Recorder of this county, and General Williams says that it matters not whether the mines prove to be bonanzas or not the county has a sure thing on one dividend at least from each location.

SCENE 4. Close of Holiday.

ARGUMENT.—'Tis a holiday. The children are gathered indoors, and are soon off to the village green for their sports. Mama enters and recalls her little Red Riding Hood, who, obedient to her, comes in to do her bidding. Mama warns her not to linger in the grove while on her way to Grandma's, lest she fall into trouble. She is soon off with the goodies on her arm, when the flowers by the wayside, and concealed, enchant her; so she is led to tarry awhile. The Rose tells her of the joy in sweet obedience, and urges her not to delay, but sorrow overtakes her. She has just resolved to proceed to Grandma's, when the Wolf accosts her with suavity, and hastens to the cottage in anticipation of a capital meal before him. Grandma is out, and Wolf reclines in her place in order to deceive Red Riding Hood on her arrival. Red Riding Hood is greatly astonished at the large eyes, nose and teeth of Grandma, when suddenly the Wolf springs for her to devour her. Woodman, near by, hearing the commotion, happens in just in time to kill the wolf and save the life of the little one.

Children in the meantime are gaily at sport, when Robin brings the dread tidings that Red Riding Hood has been devoured by a wolf, on her way through the grove. The grief of the children is soon dispelled by the merry arrival of Woodman and Little Red Riding Hood, singing of the rescue. The scene closes with a general rejoicing, and a "sleepy" "good night" to all.

Fire at Candelaria.

A fire which broke out Saturday night destroyed sixteen buildings. Nearly the whole south side of Main street is in ruins, except the Esmeralda County Bank, which is fire-proof. The losses foot up near $100,000. Insurance, $30,000. R. K. Gamble & Co. and B. G. Smith are the heaviest losers. Scarcity of water caused the fire to spread. The disaster following the closing down of the Northern Belle mine, cast a gloom over the town.
